Daniel Strozberg recognized for leadership in claims advocacy at PRMA Summit

Honored for elevating claims support and client advocacy in the high-net-worth insurance space.

October 20, 2026

Daniel Strozberg, First Vice President and Claims Manager at Alliant Private Client, was recognized at the 2025 Private Risk Management Association (PRMA) Summit for his leadership and impact in the high-net-worth insurance sector. The annual awards program highlights professionals who are advancing service standards and delivering meaningful client outcomes across the private risk industry.

Strozberg leads a dedicated claims team focused on guiding clients through complex coverage matters with clarity and precision.

“

Claims moments are often pivotal for families. Our responsibility is to provide steady advocacy and thoughtful guidance when it matters most.

— Daniel Strozberg

His recognition reflects a continued commitment to technical expertise and client-first service. “Daniel's leadership sets the standard for how we support clients through challenging situations,” said Cindy Zobian, Executive Vice President and Managing Director, Alliant Private Client.
